

Benjamin Gluck Quoted in Daily Journal Article on FBI's Return of Seized Property to U.S. Private Vaults Deposit Box Owners

In light of his recent victory in the U.S. Private Vaults case, principal Benjamin Gluck was quoted in the Daily Journal in support of the Institute for Justice's efforts in retrieving their client's property from the well-publicized FBI seizure in Beverly Hills.

Gluck continues to advocate for his clients and individuals affected by the unconstitutional search and seizure at the private vault service. With almost 30 individual clients affected by the March 2021 government raid, Gluck has been at the forefront of this important case.

Click here to read the Daily Journal article (subscription required).