

Paul Chan Authors Article on the Rise and Impact of Chinese Economic Espionage

Managing Principal Paul Chan authored an article for Bloomberg Law titled, “The Rise in Economic Espionage Cases Involving China.” The article details the recent surge in Chinese economic espionage prosecutions in light of the heightened focus on such cases by the DOJ and FBI. Chan also describes the impact of these cases on the U.S. economy and highlights the uncertainties involved in pursuing these types of cases through civil trade secrets litigation. Click here to read the full article.